Shopping center trade group taps Lee by Elizabeth Waibel Staff writer

Bruce H. Lee of Lee Development Group in Silver Spring will represent the Washington, D.C., region as co-chairman of the private sector with the International Council of Shopping Centers beginning May 19.

“Bruce Lee and Lee Development Group are leaders in the Washington real estate industry and will bring us excellent perspective and experience,” Brad Hutensky, chairman of the trade group, said in a news release. “We certainly appreciate having someone of Bruce’s talent to serve us.”

Lee Development Group has been in real estate development and management for more than 80 years and owns the Northgate Plaza shopping center and BAE Systems building in Aspen Hill.
